

"I first met Gary at a large client site. My project reported into Gary's program oversight. Gary set the example of excellence in project management and was recognized as an advocate for the project management profession, who encouraged PMI certification.

Later, when a colleague shared that he had completed the Doulos PMP training course and passed the exam, it was no surprise to find Doulos was founded by Gary. I completed the PMP prep training course and received my certification. What Gary says is true, if you follow the program of study, you will pass the exam.

After certification, I found it difficult to accumulate my PDUs and keep a balance with a demanding schedule. It was no surprise that I turned to Gary. The Advanced Project Management class is the most reasonable and effective means to get 60 PDUs that you will find. The cost, quality of the instruction, professional content, peers you can meet and learn from, and the positive relaxed environment can not be matched. (EXPERT or REWARD)

Gary is an individual committed to being a positive difference maker for those who come into contact with his services. I do not hesitate to recommend Gary. I consider him a mentor, coach and encourager. He is a credit to the project management profession and an asset to all who come into contact to him."
