

I truly wish I would have taken Gary's Emotional Intelligence course after getting my PMP. It believe it would have improved my project performance, as well as helped me advance my career faster. I have already seen an improvement in project performance by applying things I learned in the course.